UP THE PROGRAM.

Speakers for Mass Meeting on Water Question Will Be Named Soon.

KURTZ IS MAKING INQUIRIES

Has Already Received Several Replies
Regarding Success of Municipal Ownership in Other Pennsylvania
Towns—One of the Letters.

The Water Committee of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon and began work on the program for the mass meeting in the Johnson theatre Tuesday night to discuss the water question. The program will be announced at a later date. It is the intention to have three or four speakers outline the situation after which the chairman will call on others among those present. It has been decided that to insure a thorough discussion of the question at issue and prevent the arguments from drifting into other channels the chairman should name the speakers instead of having them volunteer. To have the entire audience participate in the discussion, or those among it oratorically disposed, would consume too much time is the belief.

1. Has public ownership of the water works been profitable to your city and to what extent?
2. Has it proven an undesirable ownership, and in what way?
3. Are the efforts connected with the water works controlled by the politicians and passed out by them as rewards to their favorites?
4. If not, how have you kept it out of their hands, and in the power of the municipality?

To these questions Mayor George B. Marquart of Lebanon made the following reply:
Replying to your questions relative to our water works, would say that we have been operating them for a period of about 40 years and they have always been a paying investment. The city is now receiving more than a percent on the investment and we could sell the plant before the end of this week for twice the amount that it cost us. Our rates for water are as low as any other city, and yet out of our revenues we are able to make many improvements to the plant. Last summer we spent $25,000 on improving one of our reservoirs and we are now making contracts for an additional pump and new residence at our pumping station containing between $10,000 and $15,000.

All of this money is from our revenues and does not require an extra tax levy. Would say in a word that the water works are profitable to the city and taxpayer and we could not think of selling them for any purpose to a private corporation. The plant is run on business principles, and not controlled by politicians or politicians. The Board of Water Commissioners consists of three commissioners, one Superintendent and one clerk. We have a gravity system for the greater part of our water, but during dry seasons we resort to our pumping plant and we are able to pump our water for from eight to ten dollars per million gallons. Connellville is in joint connection with the Board of Commissioners and while the majority is Republican we now have in the board one Democrat who was elected by Republicans. If your city is in any way able to build and operate your own system I will advise you without any hesitancy to do so.

We have just increased our debt this spring for the purpose of purchasing a system of domestic sewers which the city will own and operate. I am an officer of the city and do not think of selling a franchise to give to a private corporation a franchise such as this. A private corporation is in the business for the money, while the city by owning its own plant can give every advantage and benefit derived from such utility to its own citizens and taxpayers. When the city owns its own utility and any wrong exists the people have a remedy with its representative in Council, but when owned by a private company you have no redress. If you make your water in this manner, you are a sinking fund to invest principle and interest in that time, you will be paying your debt gradually that it will not be greatly felt, and in course of time you will own your plant which will become more valuable as the years come and go, and you will also be able to control it in the interests of the people and not in the interests of a few. These questions were pronounced largely because the principal objection to municipal ownership of the water works was a fear that an economical and business-like management would not be possible under existing political conditions.

Strike of Pennsylvania Shopmen May Spread Over Whole System.

With the shopmen's strike on the Pennsylvania Railroad rapidly spreading to the lines west, and the probability that all the shops east of Allentown, Ohio, will be closed by Monday, the May-day walk-out of the Pittsburgh division assumes grave proportions. In spite of the comparative quiet that so far has characterized the movement.

At 8 o'clock this morning 300 men were reported out at the P. & W. & C. division shops in Pittsburgh, and the men officials promise that all will follow on that division as far as Allentown, Ohio.

The storm center of the strike is still at Pittsburgh, where the strike headquarters have been located, and where the railroad company is making extensive preparations to guarantee the shops, and are still importing strikebreakers.

United Press Telegram.
WASHINGTON, May 4.—Dispatches from Mexico City received in the White House today state that Minister of Foreign Affairs De La Barra expects a peace arrangement to be signed by the revolutionary leaders today.

A DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST BELL CO.

Alonzo Springer Sues Company for Damages to His Son.

EXPLODED DYNAMITE CAP

Bell Company Workmen Are Alleged to Have Left Carelessly by the Road Side Near Uniontown and Which the Boys Found.

Alonzo Springer, a well known farmer of George township, has sued the Central District & Printing Telegraph Company, better known as the Bell Telephone Company, for $12,000. The suit is one for damages alleged to have been sustained by Springer's seven year old son, David, for injuries sustained by the boy, $1,000 for wages that would be due his father until the boy's age, and which he will not receive now by reason of the last's injuries and a doctor's bill of $25.

In 1909 the Bell company extended some lines in Southern Fayette county. One of them was through George and Franklin townships. The workmen left about 50 dynamite caps lying along the road between McClintown and Uniontown at a place near the residence of Mr. J. K. King. It was not until April 20, 1910, however, that the two small boys, David and Duane, aged seven and eight, found the caps.

David was curious to know what was in one of the caps and proceeded to hammer it open with a rock. He is now missing the index finger of his left hand and part of his thumb.

In his suit the father claims he is crippled for life, that he will be looked upon as a curiosity and that he has been deprived of a means of making a good livelihood through the negligence and carelessness of the Bell company. The suit was entered at Uniontown yesterday.

FAITHFUL EMPLOYEES

At Trotter-Who Went on The Pension List May 1.

Three faithful employees of the Frick Coke Company at Trotter were made happy May 1, when they were placed on the pension list, all having reached the age limit, 70 years. The veterans are:

Richard Turnbull, lampman, who has worked at Trotter continuously for over 25 years.

Michael Fitzmaurice, leveler, who says that if all the ovens he has leveled were placed in a string, they would reach from Trotter to Philadelphia.

And they would.

Patrick Collins, laborer. Pat says that in his service of a quarter of a century, he believes, he has handled more dirt than will come out of the Panama Canal.

While they all appreciate the pension system, and believe its intentions are good, there is a feeling of regret at being compelled to retire, in one of them put it, "in the prime of life."

Reefing the Bottom.
At the "Junata" plant of the Frick Coke Company, the shaft bottom is being reefed with 11 beams, and a stone wall is being erected on both sides of the bottom. When this work is completed, the shaft bottom will compare favorably with any in the region.

KEEP DOORS OPEN.

Box Renters Vote Largely Against Locking Doors
on Sabbath.

BALLOTS COUNTED TODAY

Postmaster Kurtz Found 151 Favoring Keeping Doors Open to 84 Against and Advised Department at Washington Accordingly.

The Sunday postal service will not be further curtailed by keeping the lobby closed to box renters. This has been decided as the result of the vote taken among the renters of lock boxes. Last week Postmaster Kurtz deposited a ballot in each of the boxes and requested renters to designate their views on closing the doors entirely on Sunday. In all 235 ballots were cast. The vote showed 151 against closing to 84 who favored it.

Postmaster Kurtz has notified the department at Washington that sentiment is against closing the lobby on Sunday. The Postoffice Department contacted Postmaster Kurtz to ascertain the sentiment of box renters before taking further action.

The petitions forwarded to Washington some weeks ago requested that all Sunday service, as far as possible, be discontinued, but it is understood that those interested in them were satisfied with the orders issued discontinuing service on the general delivery and carriers' windows. By keeping the lobby open no additional work is entailed upon the clerical force, which has had the Sunday work reduced to a minimum through the original order that was issued.

MINING STUDENTS

Seventeen Graduates From University of Pittsburgh This Year.

Students in the engineering departments of the University of Pittsburgh are busy working on their theses, upon which the degree they are aspiring to is based. The subjects assigned cover an extensive field of engineering activities. They are based on practical problems, many of them being of a local nature.

The university grants bachelor degrees in the departments of civil, mechanical and electrical engineering. The engineering degree is conferred upon those who show evidence of three years' practice of engineering, and the presentation of a satisfactory thesis demonstrating the application of engineering principles to some important subject.

This year there will be 17 graduates from the school of mines. This school has grown from an enrollment of eight students four years ago to one of 72 in this term. Of this last number, 17 are graduates of other schools. Among the subjects given the students in mining engineering are the following: Design of modern steel head frames; An ideal bituminous coal mine; Shaft sinking; Recent developments in mine rescue work; Protection for gaseous coal mines under heavy cover.

For the degree of B. S. in mining, W. H. Humphries, of Vance Mills, Pa., nephew of E. A. Humphries, the well known coke operator of Scotland, is preparing a thesis on "Coal Workings."

THE FRICK SLOGAN.

"Safety the First Consideration" Conspicuous at Trotter Works.

When getting off the cage at the bottom of Trotter shaft, one's attention is vividly drawn to the Frick Coke Company's slogan, "Safety the First Consideration."

Projecting from the steel wall, where every one leaving the cage can not fail to see it, is a red electric sign, in large, distinct letters, "Safety First."

It has a rather startling effect, and the impression it creates stays with you. Every once in awhile, when going through the mine, the impact of that sign at the shaft bottom will flash through your mind. It is never entirely absent.

This is one of the first signs of this kind put up. The idea originated with Superintendent P. J. Tormay of Trotter.

An Old Fashioned Plant.

The coal at the Eleanor plant of the Sunshine Coal & Coke Company is brought to the tipple by mules, and is dumped direct into the furnace. A dinky engine handles one larry, while a second drops down by gravity to another black and is pulled back by the locomotive.

Waiter Murders
Three Daughters

United Press Telegram.

BOSTON, Mass., May 4.—Showing plainly by his attitude that he did not realize the enormity of his act, Thomas Haggerty, a waiter, was remanded in court here today for examination as to his sanity, when arraigned on a charge of murdering his three daughters, the oldest 10 years, last night.

The mother of the children died two years ago, and Haggerty, it is declared, has been rendered insane by his inability to find work to provide for the children. Last night he turned on the gas in their room while they slept. The three girls were found by the police this morning.

SIX DAYS WORK

The Rule Now at United States Steel Plants.

"Six days only" for labor is the United States Steel Corporation's mandate posted in the plants of the Carnegie Steel Company. Under this new order, no employee may work more than six days a week. One result will be the employment of additional labor at the blast furnaces, which do not close Sunday. Other departments will be operated in the same manner.

If a man is required to work on Sunday, he is compelled to rest one day during the week. The employees express satisfaction over the new ruling.

Joseph Bull Dead.

Joseph Bull, aged 10 months, and 7 days, small son of Charles and Mrs. Dr. Bull, died last night at 9 o'clock at the family residence on Eighth street, West Side, following a week's illness of pneumonia. Owing to the illness of the child's mother no services will be held at the house. Services will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Italian church, interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Representative Greene has been informed that Leon Shiloh, of Ohio, has been appointed to his recommendation to a position in the postoffice of the House of Representatives.

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 4, 1911.

THE REPUBLICAN MAJORITY MADE NO MISTAKE.

After the violent indignation of the Unofficial Organ concerning the alleged appointment by a Republican majority of a Republican to fill a Democratic vacancy in the Town Council, and the able justification of this action by the Courier, it is something of a shock to discover that the Democratic place was filled by a Republican, and that a Republican after all, and that in filling his place with another Republican the Republican majority did nothing that was unrighteous or unjust even from a Democratic point of view. The following communication explains the matter:

I have just completed reading one of your editorials written in answer to a wall of war from The News in regard to the appointment of a Republican to fill the vacancy in the Town Council. The situation is peculiar and in some respects humorous. The member referred to was perhaps elected as a Democrat, but he is evidently a convert to Republicanism, because at the last general election when asked what party he belonged to he answered unhesitatingly, "Republican."

In spite of the accident of a Democratic House at Washington, it is apparent that the Democratic party has outlived its usefulness, and that the future opposition to Republican doctrines and Republican rule must take some other form than that fashioned by the False Prophet of the Platte.

In the meantime, it might be well to remember that Connelleville was never more intelligently and economically governed than it has been under this same Republican rule concerning which The News complains so bitterly, and that it is perhaps the duty of the Republican organization to strengthen its hand wherever the opportunity offers.

It is a recognized rule that the end sometimes justifies the means.

SUNDAY POSTOFFICE CLOSING.

The box-runters voted two-to-one against putting the lid on the post-office on Sundays, and the vote was based on common sense and right reason. It has been explained that the postoffice employees have to distribute the mail on Sundays as a matter of necessity, that failure to do so means certain congestion on Monday, that the congestion would be such as would seriously impair the postal service; that Sunday distribution is, therefore, absolutely essential to proper public service.

In view of these facts, it seems to me that it would be a flagrant denial of right to refuse box-runters access to their boxes at reasonable hours Sunday mornings, that is during hours when the employees of the office are compelled to be on duty.

The Courier will never cease to preach the golden doctrine of the Brotherhood of Man and the Fatherhood of God, but it will never fail to set the seal of its condemnation upon fanaticism and fake virtue wherever found.

If the ministerial aviators of Connelleville would uplift the community to higher planes of virtue, they must build on big and broad lines.

Ex-Policeman McCullough threatens to carry his case into the Town Council in open session. We know nothing of the inside of the case, but we assume that the Town Committee acted with wisdom, and we feel certain they acted with discretion when they refused to discuss the charges. The case of the applicant could take a lesson in discretion from the members of the Police Committee. There is only a suggestion to be sure, but it is a suggestion worthy of consideration.

It is perhaps natural for things to burn on Dry Hill, but it is nevertheless unfortunate.

The assumption that all Herkimborg legislation is inspired by Fayette county politics is a somewhat strained. The Republican party of Fayette county would be stronger and better if its leaders would cease the habit of suspecting each other of all manner of evil.

The annual report of the Chamber of Commerce of Connelleville is exhaustive as well as hopeful. While there is hope there is life.

The School Code is reported to have the right of way in the Legislature, but it is a somewhat doubtful whether it will be enough of it left to interest even its friends.

Age does not seem to excuse the President of a bank which has committed the crime of closing its doors against its depositors.

The Scotland-Hoy Scouts are getting ready to go to the bat, and there is no doubt but the boys and their average will be good.

The School Code may have the right of way, but there are evidently some serious obstacles in its path. The moment is overdue with various reforms gradually. The School Code is too radical for one swallow. The school should be educated up to it gradually.

Hon. C. Gregg, the member from Westland, is on the Congressional job. He has succeeded in landing an appointment in the House postoffice for one of his faithful constituents.

The B. & O. is feeling the effects of industrial stagnation.

THE BOY SCOUTS PREPARE FOR BALL.

Scottdale Ones Will Also Have the May Hike on Saturday.

CAPTAINS OF TEAMS NAMED

E. A. McGinn, Field Veteran Resigns
Office Work to Enter Lumber Business—Sunday School Meet for Methodists Tomorrow Evening.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, May 4.—The Boy Scouts are out for baseball, six teams having been organized in Scottdale.
Practises will be held and from the available candidates a senior and a junior team will be selected. If there are any Scouts who are not on these teams and who desire a chance to practice, they should notify some of the captains. These are Fred Collins, Roy Fisher, Marquis Smith, Lawrence Jackson, Frank Browning and John Mumaw.

To be members of a hiking party or on a Junior or Senior ball team boys must finish tenderfoot certificates.
Every boy should be able to "show"
work to learn the names of four standard knots and how to tie them, for the know test, and the history of the American flag, and two verses of "The Star Spangled Banner" for the final test. These are the beginning of general utility and knowledge which make membership in the Scouts of value to every boy.

The May hike, Saturday May 6, will give all the boys who go a chance to take tests in cooking, packing and tracking. J. C. Werner will be in charge. The party will start from the Pittsburg street school building at 8.30 Saturday morning. The baseball captains are arranging for practice work, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. On Saturday they hope to have a series of games. Plans are also under way for a camp of the first and second class Scouts. Only a small number may be admitted, and these will be chosen for their work and the date of their certificates.

Mr. McGinn Resigns.
E. A. McGinn, a veteran of the York officers, has resigned his commission there, after continuous service for 21 years, excepting recently when a sick spell had him laid up in Baltimore for a while. At that time an attack of paralysis struck him, but he recovered and was back at work. The too close confinement of the office caused his physician to advise a more outdoor occupation. Mr. McGinn will embark in the lumber business and will have his headquarters here.

Sunday School Meet.
The teachers and officers and in fact all interested are called to meet in the Sunday school room of the First Methodist Episcopal Church tomorrow evening, 8. S. Forgive the help worker for the Sunday School Association is to be present and the grand lessons, teachers' training classes, etc., will be discussed.

Independent Team.

ing organized in Scottdale, and is

Tonsiline
Cures
Sore Throat

The throat is one of the most delicate parts of the body. It is also one of the most important, and should be given the best possible care. The throat is the gateway to the body. The air we breathe, the food we eat, the liquids we drink, all pass through it. It is very easily affected by cold, strain, exposure, etc., and Sore Throat is therefore one of our most common ailments. Strangely enough, it is also one of the most neglected.

Sore Throat is a very serious matter, for the whole system is in danger in consequence of it. Every Sore Throat patient is a candidate for Tonsiline. Cough, croup, diphtheria and other serious or fatal diseases, all of which can be prevented by the timely use of Tonsiline. It taken in time a dose or two will do it. Tonsiline is made to cure throat diseases and nothing else. It is the one remedy for this purpose sold largely in the United States. Every user endorses it; every physician, knowing its virtues, commends it. The most important thing to remember about Tonsiline is the fact that it really does cure Sore Throat. 25 cents and 50 cents. Hospital Size $1.00. All Druggists.

Silk Petticoats, made of the very best quality of Taffeta, regular $5.00 value, during this sale, Thursday and Friday $2.58

Just received a large shipment of Lawn and Linen Dresses and Waists, on display Thursday and Friday at FIRE SALE PRICES.

The folks in this town know bargains when they see them. The store was crowded at the opening of our great fire sale.

The news that Feldstein's wonderful stock of the season's latest goods was on sale at prices that did not even cover the cost of making brought the wise buyers from far and near for the merchandise offered in this extraordinary sale was in most cases absolutely perfect. While smoke and water made the stocks unfit to sell as new goods they did not affect their appearance, wearing qualities or usefulness of the different articles. Don't delay until you are forced to take the odds and ends and picked-overs—come today and participate in the greatest feast of values ever seen in Connellsville.

Former Officer Makes Statement; Wants to Know Charges Against Him

C. H. McCullough, the discharged policeman, declares he has not asked the Police Committee for reinstatement. McCullough makes the following statement:

"I don't want to be reinstated. I'm off the force for good. I haven't done any talking to the reporters since this thing happened, but I want to say something now. I want to know what are the charges against me and who preferred them.

"I went to Ed. Hetzel and asked him what the charges were and who brought them. He simply said that there were lots of complaints against me. 'Just tell me one of them,' I begged of him. He wouldn't do it.

"The rules and regulations governing the police force give every officer the right to know what charges are made against him and who makes them. The Police Committee laid me off without a defense. My enemies have stabbed me in the back. I am going to fight. I intend to know what charges are made against me and by whom, and if the Police Committee don't give me a hearing I will carry my case into open Council."

Young People's Alliance Meets

The School Code Meets Opposition

HARRISBURG, May 4.—The House as its first action last night declined by unanimous vote to concur in the Senate amendments to the school code and it now goes on conference. As the Senate adjourned for the week after yesterday morning's session, no action will be possible until next week. The motion to non-concur was made by Chairman Carroll of the Committee on Education, and chiefly because of the objectionable provision making medical inspection of pupils compulsory. It found the members in receptive mood. Many of the representatives declared they were ready to fight the whole measure, rather than agree to the medical inspection provision while, on the other hand, with this provision eliminated it is probable the code would have met with as little opposition as it did in the Senate, which it passed yesterday morning. When discovered that the members of the Educational Committee were ready to load the code with a collection of amendments, sending it to conference was the proper move.

The House had planned to take up the school code as the first business Wednesday, but when it was called upon, Representative Flynn moved to non-concur in all the amendments, which was greeted with cries of "No," from many parts of the House. Flynn said that many members were not familiar with the amendments, and that non-concurrence would give them an opportunity to study them.

General Compensatory Bill Goes to the House With Few Amendments.

EXAMINATIONS FOR THE MINERS

Of the Bituminous Coal Regions Provided For in a New Act That May Become a Law—Public Utilities Measure.

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 4.—The general compensatory bill, introduced by Representative James Dunn of Cambria, for the benefit of injured workmen in all industries, was reported favorably to the House last night by the Labor and Industries Committee, with some amendments. The bill provides for the examination of the provisions of the measure by a vote of 182 to nothing, the House passed the bill to provide for miners' examining boards in the bituminous sections of the state. The bill was introduced by William Penney, Washington, its author, who declared that many accidents were due to the employment of unskilled miners. The bill would provide an examining board, to be named by the courts of each county where such work is mined. Miners must have had two years' experience before they can secure certificates and then only after examination.

The administration Public Service Commission bill, which had been in the hands of the House Committee on Judiciary for the month to the day, was favorably reported at the afternoon session by J. C. Stedman, Warren. The bill was amended over 100 instances, the bulk of the amendments being of a technical character, or to clarify meaning.

A sharp battle occurred in the House yesterday afternoon over the Sherman bill, imposing a tax of one-half of 1 per cent of all the gross receipts of all fire insurance companies, which was defeated 85 to 70. The bill is intended as a revenue raiser and Representative J. D. Sherrill told the House that its passage would destroy the cost of the Fire Marshal's Bureau of the Insurance Department, which another bill, now before the legislature, proposes to create. Generally speaking, the city members supported the bill, but members from outside the cities opposed it. The fight appeared to be drawn between the old line companies and the mutual companies.

Among the measures in the House reported from committee were: Dunster Senate bill, allowing county commissioners to erect foot bridges in lieu of passenger bridges when conditions warrant it.

Adams Senate (administration) bill, regulating home and foreign life insurance companies.

For Senate bill, regulating terms of third class city officials to conform to the amended constitution.

Carlisle Senate bill, allowing cities and boroughs to enact ordinances regulating mining coal beneath such municipalities.

Kling Senate bill, regulating constabulary fees.

Among other bills passed finally were: Senate bill, validating certain charters of electric light companies in two or more municipalities or townships.

Denning trout stream.

Enabling boroughs to validate ordinances which have not been published, or where proof of publication cannot be made.

Enabling regulation of foreign corporations.

Providing that the Railroad Commission may compel physical tests of telephone lines for the interchange of business.

"Black Hand" bill, introduced by the Allegheny county district attorney's office, making such intimidation and extortion punishable by a fine of $1,000 and three years imprisonment.

Creating a State Board of Mediation to arbitrate labor disputes, in consist of two persons appointed by the Governor, who are to act with the chair of the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of the Department of Internal Affairs.

Providing for additional copies of the annual edition of Smith's Handbook.

Creating a commission of two Senators and three Representatives to serve without pay and investigate the advisability of the State abolishing all toll bridges, and appropriating $1,000 for expenses.

Providing that in sales of corporations franchises or property by sheriffs, etc., a certificate of liens for state taxes, etc., must be read.

Senate bill, amending the highway bridge act, so that bridges 300 or more feet in length are built across streams forming a boundary between counties, $20,000 and less population, they shall be paid for by the respective counties in proportion to the population.

Requiring vehicles to turn to the right.

Senate bill, empowering courts to enforce orders of support.

Regulating personal property and salary loans.

Prohibiting hospitals and other institutions receiving state aid from restricting pay patients in the selection of physicians and surgeons not connected with such institutions.

Providing that buildings inside mines must be constructed of incombustible material.

Providing for registration of bottles and trade marks.

Senate bill, decreasing from 45 to 30 minutes the minimum period which shall be allowed for the midday meal at mines.

Westmoreland Reformed Classis

A meeting of the Westmoreland Classis of the Reformed Church was held at Mt. Pleasant, May 2. The morning session was opened with divine services followed by an address by Rev. A. A. Black.

The day was taken up largely by hearing the pastoral reports of the pastors. These reports showed the church throughout the Classis to be in a healthy condition. The treasurer's report showed large contributions both for benevolence and for congregational purposes to be very large.

The evening session was an open public meeting at which two addresses were made. The first, by Rev. G. U. Waughman on the subject,
